SPECIAL

GOLDEN APPLE AWARDS: S.A.M.A. "GOLDEN APPLE" AWARDS have been presented annually in Duke Medical tradition since 1963 to reward faculty members and house staff for excellence in teaching. Each year a "GOLDEN APPLE" plaque is presented to one house officer and two faculty members (one for basic science and one for clinical science) who are deemed by the student body to be worthy of this high honor.

The names of previous "GOLDEN APPLE" winners, as listed below, will be announced at the Student-Faculty Night Show and will soon be engraved permanently on a gold plaque, to which the names of this year's winners will be added. By local tradition, this award may not be presented more than once to any individual.

This year's "GOLDEN APPLE" AWARDS will be presented at the Student-Faculty Night Show on May 19, 1970. Don't miss it!!
