

Duke University Medical Center Library News

December 2008

Issue #321

Computer Workstation Changes Coming January 5th

Pat Thibodeau, Associate Dean for Library Services & Archives

More and more people are using the Library's computers, which is a good thing! However, with this increase in activity has come an increase in the use of our workstations for personal reasons. As a result, noise from headphones, cell phones, and personal conversations has escalated. Patrons who are doing serious work are having difficulty finding quiet and secure computer workspaces to access educational, research, and patient care information.

In order to fully support Duke Medicine's primary missions of patient care, research, and education, we are redirecting the use of some of our computers. Effective January 5th, there will be an area for general computing and another one for those who need to do research to support their Duke activities.

What will be changing?

Computers on the Mezzanine Level and in the Electronic Classroom (Rm 104, Lower Level)

-  Will be limited to research, clinical work, and educational activities
-  Will require a login using your Duke Medicine computer ID and password

This Windows Active Directory ID and password is the one you usually use to login to your regular computer workstation or laptop. If you are not sure what this is, call the DHTS Help Desk at 684-2243 or talk to the Systems Administrator in your department.

Computers on the First Stack Level

-  No login required
-  Will be limited to "quick look-up" of books and journals with a 15-minute time restriction

General computer workstations will be available on the Entrance Level near the Library Service Desk.

-  No login required
-  Available to the general public and those without Duke Medicine computer IDs
-  May be used for general Internet access, e-mail, and other computer uses
-  Time limits may apply if others are waiting

Reminder: Please be considerate of others!

Silence cell phones, and keep music and conversations at a low level.

Duke University Medical Center Library

<http://www.mclibrary.duke.edu/>

Monday - Thurs.	8:00 am - 11:00 pm
Friday	8:00 am - 6:00 pm
Saturday	10:00 am - 6:00 pm
Sunday	2:00 pm - 10:00 pm
Administration	660-1150
Library Service Desk	660-1100
Document Delivery/ILL	660-1100

Computer Changes Coming in January... 1	Library Student Advisory Committee... 4
Calling All Bloggers and Writers..... 2	NLM Revisited..... 5
RefWorks..... 2	Staff News..... 6
Check Out an iPod..... 3	Welcome to Emma Cryer..... 6
Duke/UNC Speaker Series..... 3	Holiday Hours..... 6
Black History Month Celebration..... 4	Library Educational Offerings..... 7

Calling All Bloggers and Writers!

The Medical Center Library is seeking guest bloggers for our Crossroads blog. If you're interested in exploring issues in medicine, nursing, information, research and education, here is your opportunity! Topics for posts could include:

- making evidence-based practice a reality
- spotlighting significant new articles from the literature
- use of technology in health care
- your life as a student or clinician
- other topics of interest

No previous blogging experience is required! Guest bloggers will receive free interlibrary loan privileges or copy cards for their participation.

Interested? Questions? Contact Megan von Isenburg at megan.vonisenburg@duke.edu or (919) 660-1131.

Megan von Isenburg

Associate Director, Public Services - Information Services

Having trouble distinguishing APA citation style from CSE? Wondering if you need to cite electronic journal articles with that mysterious DOI number you've heard about? Well, have no fear! Duke has recently purchased a site license to RefWorks. This personal online database and bibliography center can help you organize and share references and format your bibliographies and manuscripts with ease.

Create a personal database with unlimited storage online

Import references directly from multiple databases

Organize, manage, and share references

Format bibliographies and manuscripts

Connect to RefWorks directly at <http://www.mclibrary.duke.edu/refworks> or via our Website pages, Tutorials & Training or Tools for Authors. Accounts are free, but you will have to log in with your Duke NetID and password. To get you started, RefWorks offers a number of short tutorials at <http://www.refworks.com/tutorial/>.

Need help? Call the Library Service Desk at (919) 660-1100, IM dukemclref, or email mclref@mc.duke.edu. For tips and videos on using RefWorks, visit our Tutorials & Training pages at <http://www.mclibrary.duke.edu/training/refworks>.

Check Out an iPod!

Medical Center faculty, students, and staff may check out one of the Library's iPods containing:

- 🔑 Medical Podcasts
Listen to summaries of articles from JAMA, NEJM, Lancet and more
- 🔑 Duke Department of Medicine Talks
Noon GME Conferences, Grand Rounds, and Board Reviews
- 🔑 New England Journal of Medicine Videos
Clinical procedure videos formatted for the iPod screen
- 🔑 Netter's Anatomy Flash Cards
Quiz yourself on anatomy
- 🔑 Library Tour

iPod Policies

- iPods may be checked out by Medical Center patrons only.
- The loan period is 2 weeks with 1 renewal. Call (919) 660-1100 for renewals.
- Do not connect the Library iPod to your computer. It is intended as a stand-alone device containing medical podcasts and videos.
- To re-charge an iPod, connect it directly to the wall with the enclosed cord and charger.
- Use headphones to listen to an iPod or plug it directly into computer speakers.
- Do not copy files from the iPod onto your computer or from your computer onto the iPod.
- You will be held responsible for replacement costs for iPods that are lost or damaged.
- Any personal content downloaded onto the iPod will be deleted immediately when it is returned to the Library.

Suggestions?

If you know of other healthcare-related content that you'd like to see on the iPods, please contact Megan von Isenburg at (919) 660-1100 or megan.vonisenburg@duke.edu.

Duke/UNC Speaker Series

*Trent History of Medicine
Society and the Bullitt History
of Medicine Club*

Dec. 9, 2008 - UNC Health Sciences Library
Vanessa Northington Gamble, M.D., Ph.D.
University Professor of Medical Humanities
George Washington University
*Without Health and Long Life All Else Fails: A History of African-American Efforts to Eliminate
Racial Disparities in Health and Health Care*

Duke/UNC Speaker Series

*Trent History of Medicine
Society and the Bullitt History
of Medicine Club*

Jan. 13, 2009 - Duke Medical Center Library
Priscilla Wald, Ph.D.
Professor of English and Women's Studies
Duke University
Clones, Chimeras, and Other Creatures of the Biotech Revolution: Towards a Genomic Mythology

DUMCL Hosts Events to Celebrate Black History Month

Jessica Roseberry, Medical Center Archives

Duke University Medical Center Library

February 9, 2009

2:30 - 4:00 pm

The Exhibit opens for viewing at 4:30 pm

Fourth Annual "Tea with Trailblazers" Speaker Panel

Dr. Haywood Brown, Chair of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, will join Dr. Danny Jacobs, Chair of the Department of Surgery, to talk about their experiences as African-American trailblazers at Duke.

"Opening Doors: Contemporary African American Academic Surgeons"

On loan from the National Library of Medicine, this traveling exhibit explores and celebrates African-American academic surgeons. It will be unveiled at a reception immediately following the Tea with Trailblazers panel presentation. The exhibit will be available for viewing at the Library until the end of April 2009.

Figures from the National Great Blacks in Wax Museum

The Library will host several life-sized wax figures of medical personalities from the National Great Blacks in Wax Museum in Baltimore, MD. The figures will be available for viewing on February 9th.

These events are free and open to the public. For more information, please contact Jessica Roseberry at (919) 383-2653. A summary of last year's Trailblazers event is available on our Website at <http://www.mclibrary.duke.edu/about/news/ln04-08.html#trailblazers>.

Medical Center Library Student Advisory Committee

Andrew Conway
School of Nursing

Andrea Stehman
Doctor of Physical Therapy Program

Lori Dowell
Pathologists' Assistant Program

Patricia Thibodeau
Associate Dean, Medical Center Library

Kelly Mortellite
Doctor of Physical Therapy Program

Megan von Isenburg
Medical Center Library Coordinator

Annette Murphy
Physician Assistant Program

Iman Washington
School of Medicine

Meera Patel
School of Nursing

Elizabeth Wulff-Burchfield
School of Medicine

Interested in joining? Please email megan.vonisenburg@duke.edu or call (919) 660-1131.

FEELING CHILLED? ASK FOR A THROW BLANKET AT THE LIBRARY SERVICE DESK!

National Medical Librarians Month

Sponsors

Cold Spring Harbor

Duke University Stores

EBSCO

Elsevier (MDConsult and ScienceDirect)

Gold Standard (Clinical Pharmacology)

Informa Healthcare

Majors Books

Jim Tate

Mary Ann Liebert

Natural Standard

Rittenhouse Book Distributors, Inc.

Solinet

Unbound Medicine, Inc.

Wiley

Puzzler Contest Winner

Heather Brockel

iPod touch

(courtesy of Informa Healthcare)

Winning entry: "I've Got To Hand It To You"

Staff News

Robert James, Associate Director of Access Services, left the Medical Center Library in July to become the Assistant Director of User Services, Academic Library Services, Joyner Library, East Carolina University. Robert had worked at the Library since 2003.

Adonna Thompson became the Assistant Director and Librarian for Research, Outreach, and Education at the Duke Medical Center Archives in September. Adonna had previously served as Director and Archivist for the Physician Assistant History Center.

Brandi Tuttle, Information and Education Services Librarian, was one of twenty-four applicants selected for the 2008-2009 North Carolina Master Trainer Class. Sponsored by the State Library of N.C., this program aims to increase the ability of public and academic library staff to plan and present effective training.

Mira Waller has left the Duke Medical Center Archives to become the Project Euclid Manager at Duke University Press. Mira had served as Archives Assistant Director and Librarian for Research, Outreach, and Education.

Library staff presented the following initiatives during the poster and paper sessions held at the Annual Meeting of the Mid-Atlantic Chapter of the Medical Library Association in Morgantown, WV, October 21, 2008:

Karen S. Grigg, Charlie S. Lackey, Beverly Murphy, Richard A. Peterson, and Patricia L. Thibodeau - Speed Weeding: When Space Needs are on the Horizon

Karen S. Grigg, Marcos Rodriguez, Richard A. Peterson, and Patricia L. Thibodeau - Keeping Patrons Happy: Data-Driven Collection Management

Jeffery Loo (University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Information and Library Science), Anne Langley (Duke University Libraries), Beverly Murphy, and Patricia L. Thibodeau - Global Health: Some First Steps to Serving This Interdisciplinary Field

Happy Holidays!

Christmas & New Year's Hours

Monday	Dec. 22	8:00 am - 8:00 pm
Tuesday	Dec. 23	8:00 am - 8:00 pm
Wednesday	Dec. 24	CLOSED
Thursday	Dec. 25	CLOSED
Friday	Dec. 26	8:00 am - 6:00 pm
Saturday	Dec. 27	10:00 am - 6:00 pm
Sunday	Dec. 28	2:00 pm - 10:00 pm
Monday	Dec. 29	8:00 am - 8:00 pm
Tuesday	Dec. 30	8:00 am - 8:00 pm
Wednesday	Dec. 31	8:00 am - 6:00 pm
Thursday	Jan. 1	CLOSED

Introducing Emma Cryer

Jessica Roseberry, Medical Center Archives

The Library welcomes its newest employee, Emma Cryer, who joined the staff in August. Emma received her master's degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and worked at Johns Hopkins for two years prior to coming to Duke.

As Electronic Resources and Serials Manager, Emma is in charge of the Library's online and print journals, including collection development, contract negotiations, and licensing issues, which she finds the most interesting. Ultimately, she would like to transition the journal collection to be as print-free as possible, since this is the way that most patrons now view journals. "My biggest challenge will be balancing today's high costs of journals with a realistic budget," she says.

Emma is very interested in getting feedback regarding the journal collection, so please send your comments, suggestions, and other ideas to emma.cryer@duke.edu.

Improve Your Library Research Skills!

*The Medical Center Library offers a variety of educational opportunities.
A roster of training sessions is below.*

Upcoming Library Classes

All classes held in Room 104 Lower Level

PubMed 🖱️

Hands-on. Searching with MeSH, limiting, full-text access, saving searches, and creating alerts.

Jan. 15 12 - 1 pm

Feb. 19 12 - 1 pm

CINAHL 🖱️

Hands-on. Subject heading and keyword searching, limiting, full-text access, saving searches, and creating alerts.

Jan. 22 12 - 1 pm

Feb. 26 12 - 1 pm

RefWorks 🖱️

Hands-on. Adding and managing citations, and building bibliographies and in-text citations.

Jan. 29 12 - 1 pm

Mar. 5 12 - 1 pm

EndNote

Demo. Set up EndNote, add citations from databases, and automatically insert citations and build bibliographies while you write.

Jan. 8 12 - 1 pm | Jan. 27 5:15 - 6:15 pm

Feb. 12 12 - 1 pm | Feb. 19 5:15 - 6:15 pm

Library Orientation

Basics for navigating and using our print and electronic collections.

First Tuesday of every month

12:15 - 12:45 pm

Using RSS for Current Awareness

Send tables of contents and search results straight to your desktop using RSS.

Feb. 5 12 - 1 pm

Medical Center Library at Your Desktop 🖱️

Hands-on. Designed for support staff.

Tips and tricks for finding articles, database searching, providing access to articles without violating copyright, and more! Registration required: <http://hr.duke.edu/train>.

Feb. 26 9 - 11 am

Customize Your Training

If you can't make one of our scheduled classes, we can arrange a customized training session for you or your department on specific resources or topics. To make arrangements, contact the librarian consultant for the topic. If your topic is not listed, please contact Connie Schardt, Associate Director of Public Services - Education Services, at (919) 660-1124 or connie.schardt@duke.edu.

CINAHL	Anne Powers	660-1128	MEDLINE: OvidSP	Anne Powers	660-1128
Copyright	Pat Thibodeau	660-1150	MEDLINE: PubMed	Megan von Isenburg	660-1131
Drug Databases	Connie Schardt	660-1124	NIH Public Access Policy	Pat Thibodeau	660-1150
EndNote	Ginger Carden	660-1184	PDA's and Mobile Devices	Brandi Tuttle	660-1126
Evidence-based Medicine	Connie Schardt	660-1124	RefWorks	Megan von Isenburg	660-1131
Health Statistics	Hattie Vines	660-1125	RSS	Brandi Tuttle	660-1126
Library Orientation	Brandi Tuttle	660-1126	Web of Science	Megan von Isenburg	660-1131

Learn Online on Your Own Time

For self-paced learning, online tutorials, handouts, and tips for using many of the Library's resources can be found on the Tutorials & Training section of the Library's Website at <http://www.mclibrary.duke.edu/training>.

Duke University Medical Center Library
Box 3702 DUMC
Durham, North Carolina 27710

Effective Immediately!

After 6 pm and on Weekends

There will be only one entrance into the Library.

Please use the entrance door
closest to the Hospital.

The entrance door leading towards the Searle Center will be locked at 6 pm and on weekends.

To receive notification by email when the electronic version of the Medical Center Library News is available, please send email to mclnews@mc.duke.edu or complete the Notification Form at <http://www.mclibrary.duke.edu/about/news/mailform.html>.

Duke University Medical Center Library News is published bimonthly.

Pat Thibodeau, Associate Dean

Beverly Murphy, Editor

Editorial Board:

Jessica Roseberry

Julie Walker

Megan von Isenburg

Anne Powers